

Women in Peace and Security

The WFM Council gathered in Buenos Aires, Argentina for its 2010 Council Meeting:

Recognizes the important role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and in peacebuilding as first recognized in Security Council Resolution 1325 (2000).

On the tenth anniversary of Resolution 1325, encourages measures that support women's peace initiatives, including their participation in Reconciliation Leadership and the Global Mediation and Reconciliation Service.
